Rotem ONE

Modern agriculture requires constant optimization of production and accessibility from anywhere, anytime. Rotem ONE and Platinum controllers meet these market demands taking the farmer's experience to a simple yet advanced level, also thanks to the touch-screen practical interface.

Providing complete control over climate, environmental conditions, feed and water management, Rotem ONE and Platinum enable farmers to grow healthier, larger birds while saving energy, feed, and time.

Rotem ONE and Platinum modular architecture enables a high level of flexibility in their system design, supporting a large number of devices and up to 200 2 HP heavy duty relays (including expansion units). The improved software guarantees successful critical missions, with smart On/Off/Auto override switches, 16 independent heat zones, precision fogger and evaporative cooling system, an SD card, and ARM CPU.

Platinum controllers features a panel mount option that can be installed directly into an electrical cabinet.

Platinum PRO

RotemNet Web

RotemNet Web, an intuitive software used to connect to the controllers from any computer, tablet or smartphone, enables remote management over farm operations. It provides a flexible and user-friendly experience allowing the farmer to access and control data, while defining user settings, profiles and viewing preferences.

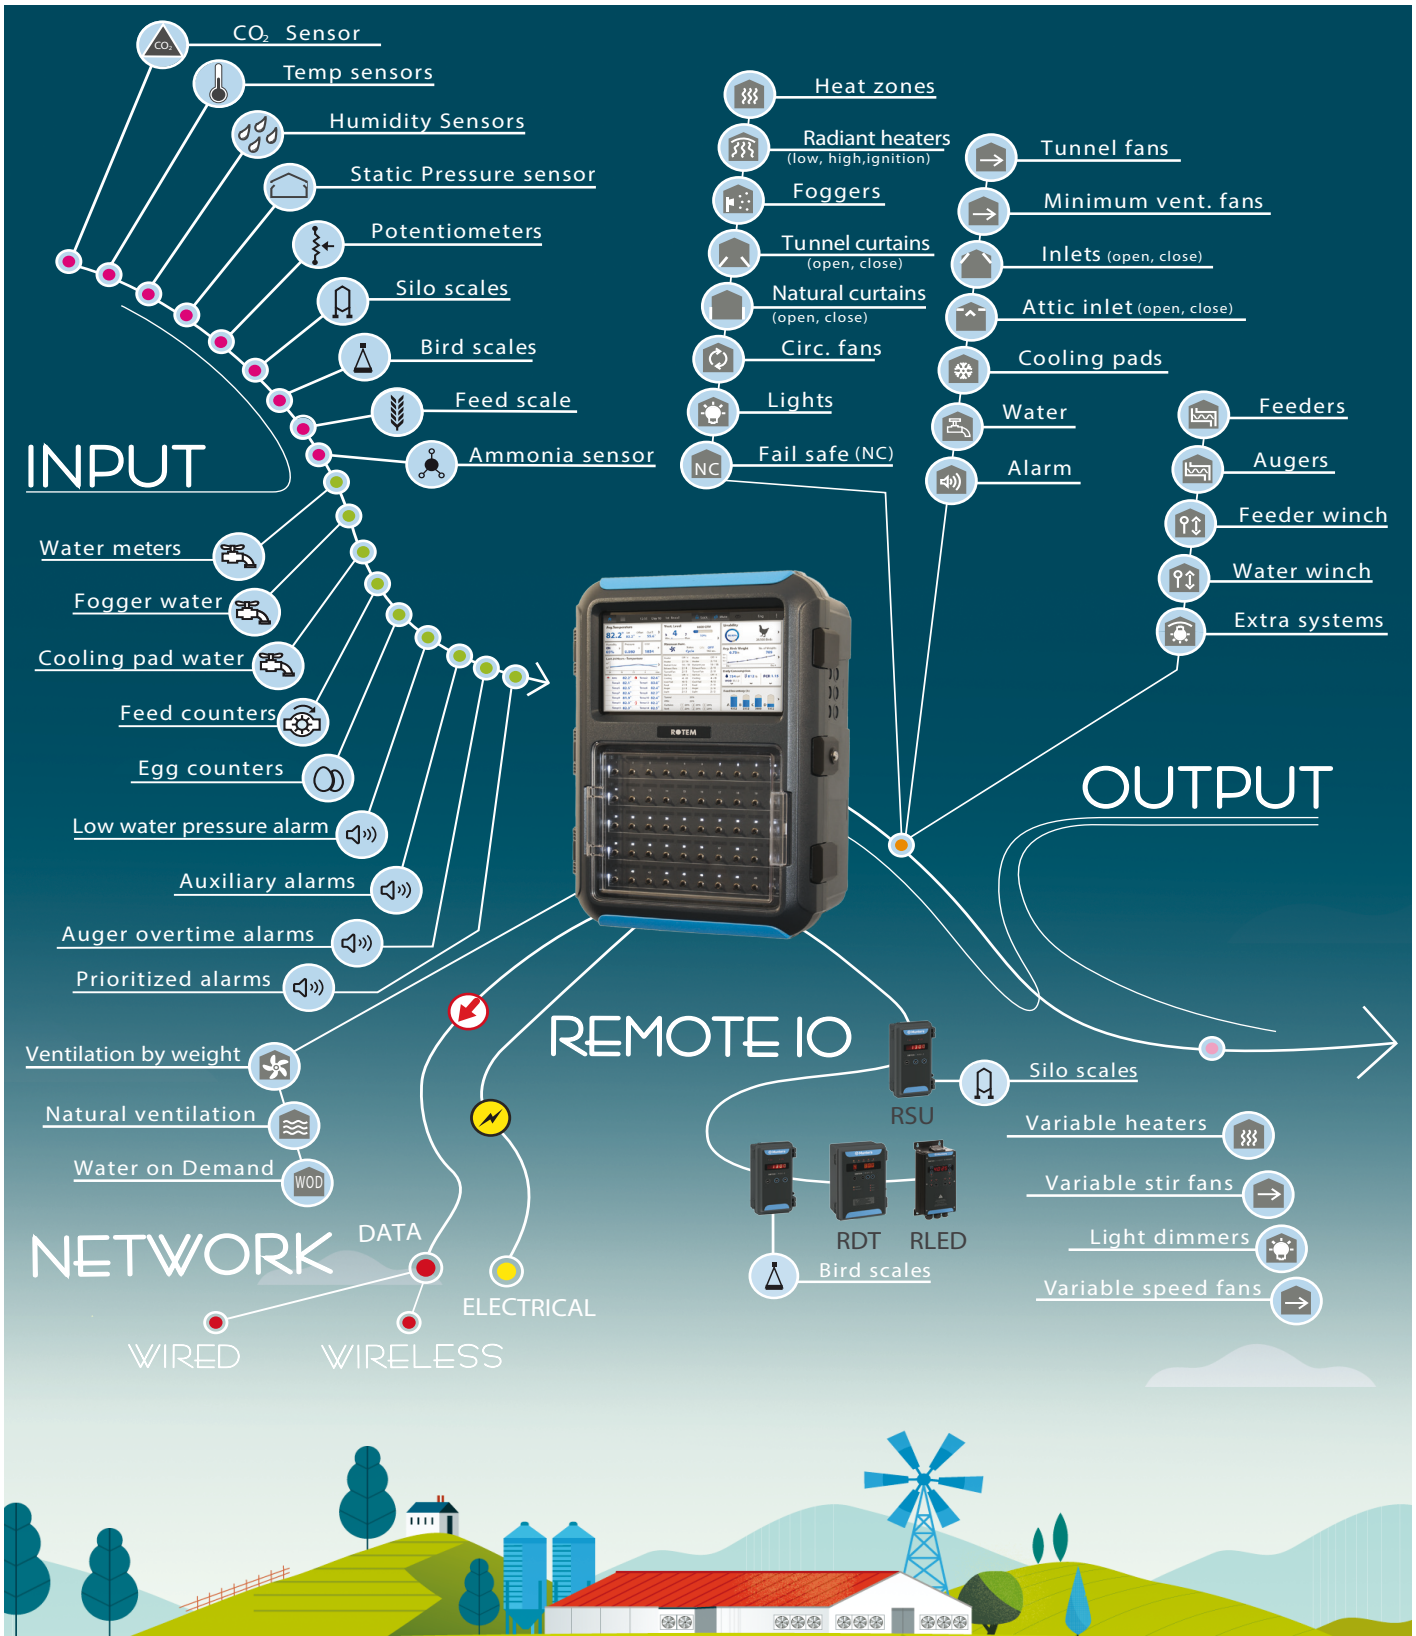

Munters Communicator 2.0 or CommBox acts as communication interface, enabling remote access, control, and an alarms package.
